

Thank You
Rachel!

Thank you mama Uwa for everything :) I have learnt the most invaluable lessons of my life from you. (the after class lessons) You have changed me in many ways and I love that. You are an amazing person. Super hard working and always on time. Thanks for all those lovely walks to home and for the space at home :) It was a great place to be at. My experience in Berlin wouldn't have been this great without you. You are the most invaluable person of my life. I have saved my coins and will use them when I come to Berlin again to meet you :) I still have all the train tickets that you gave me and I ate all the gummy bears. Thanks for all the pictures that you took of me and you know :P You've been so sincere in that, more than Milos :D You have been so supportive all this while. Thanks for the girl power! Thanks for everything.

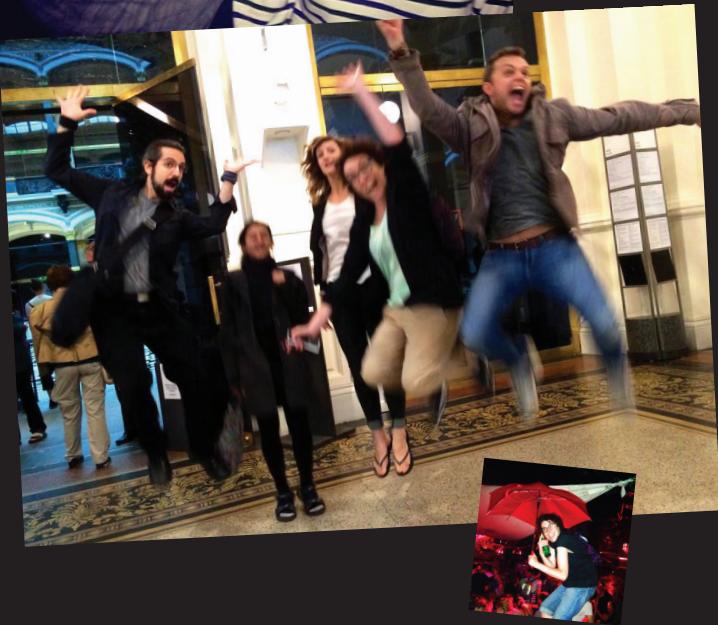

Art isn't about what you make but what you make happen. --Jeremy Deller

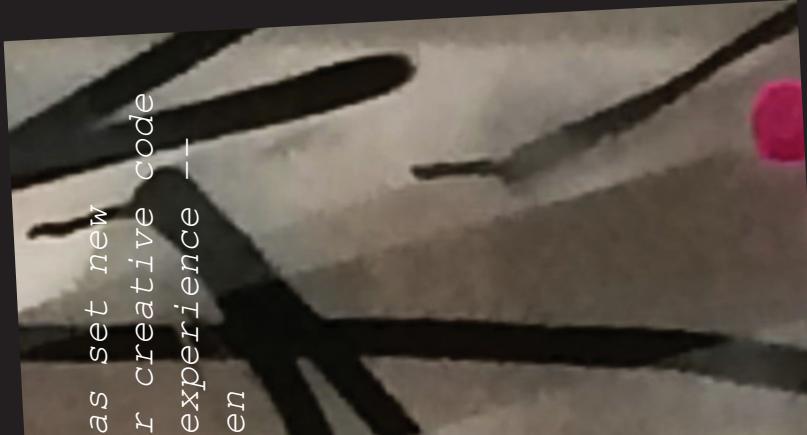

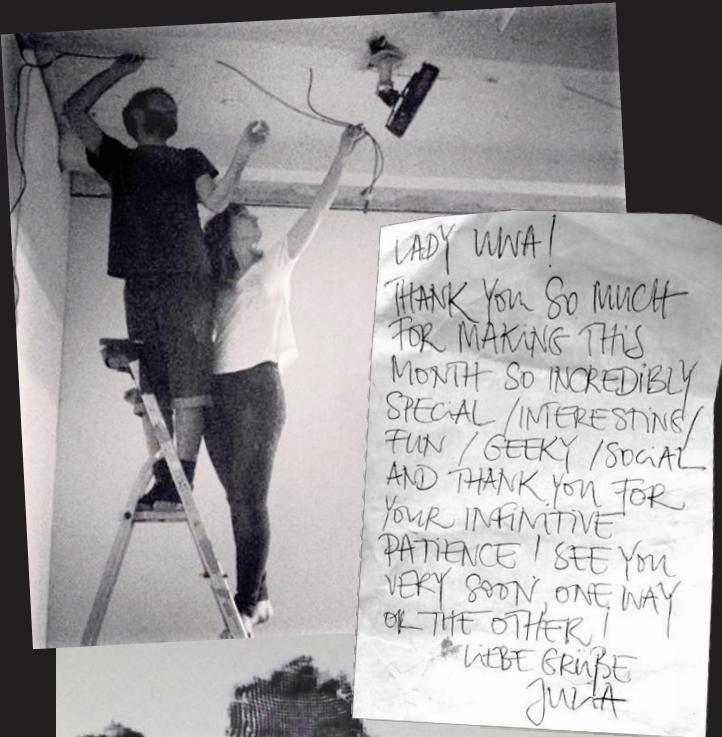

Like I've said before:
it's mind-boggling to think that all the activities, speakers, and events we peeps experienced over the past month were arranged by one amazing person.
You've done a great thing, Rachel Uwa. Life-changing, even. A million thanks wouldn't be enough. But it's a start.

A million thanks,

Soma

P.S.: note the Oxford
comma.

Rachel Uwa has set new standards for creative code educational experience -- Orlagh O'Brien

Thank you so much for this opportunity! Two months ago I would never imagine I would ever meet all the people you brought to the school, even more, actually exchange ideas with them. It's a dream come true that will always define my new path. I really hope that ours roads cross again, personally and professionally, and whatever you do, you keep doing it with the passion and care. Oh... And by the way... I really don't think we look like Peeps. : P Kisses, already with saudade*

